WELCOMING REMARKS

Mr. Robert Drake, Deputy Director, National Security Agency, welcomed members to NSA and commented on the importance to the Intelligence Community of the Committee's work. He noted that NSA looked to the Committee for assistance in developing security procedures to protect very sensitive NSA information. Mr. Drake said he hoped that briefings such as we were about to receive would help in increasing understanding of NSA's security concerns.

25X1

PRELIMINARY REMARKS

Mr. Ackerman advised that the Department of State had successfully completed investigations of two unauthorized disclosure cases. Success was attributed in the main to persistent investigation mix with a little luck. Two other cases were in process with expectations for favorable resolution. Committee members noted that this was most encouraging and proposed that knowledge of the successes be provided widely as events permit.

SPECIAL BRIEFING

The primary purpose of the SECOM meeting hosted by NSA was to permit SECOM members opportunity to gain an appreciation of technical security threats. A well organized briefing followed by laboratory demonstrations was presented. Members commented favorably on the presentation and appreciation is extended to the NSA Member and other NSA officers for the knowledgeable professionalism demonstrated on this occasion.
